LOCAL MEN ENTER DRUG FIELD

R. N. (Butch) Brasher, Earl Raybuck and T. T. Martin this week finished the invoicing of the Dr. F. F. A. Elders Drug Store stock and have assumed charge.

Mr. Brasher is having extensive arrangements made at his business building, known as Brasher's Soda Shop, and within a few days they will have removed the entire stock and fixtures to the west side of the square.

Some thirteen years ago Mr. Raybuck entered in the employ of the late Dr. T. J. Trautmann, then owner of the drug store he now has become part owner. He applied himself to his work, at several times attending the St. Louis College of Pharmacy, recently receiving his degree of Ph. G. His shows the part of a diligent student and a determination to succeed. Mr. Raybuck has that part of courtesy that is appreciated, winning friends and holding them. He will be in charge of the drug store, giving personal attention to the filling of all prescriptions.

R. N. Brasher, known perhaps better as "Butch," is obtaining a portion of the stock, and the fact that he is a part owner is a certainty of its success, as he has demonstrated his ability as a shrewd business man since he has come to Hayti. His business today is a success and this new one added will give his place an added attraction. With his advice at hand the new venture is a sure success.

T. T. Martin, a third partner in the business is quite well known in Hayti, he being a Frisco engineer on the Hayti-Caruthersville accommodation, having been a citizen of Hayti for several years. Mr. Martin is a conservative gentleman and his attention when no required by the Frisco will be a benefit to the new concern.

In Mr. Raybuck it has become a case where errand and office boy has shown his ability to rise to the position of part owner, and his two partners, Mr. Brasher and Mr. Martin, are to be congratulated in having with them one determined to succeed.

With the Herald it is a pleasure to note the new concern, feeling each will profit in the new venture, and join their friends in congratulations.

They will possibly have the stock and fixtures moved and neatly arranged by Saturday week, adding new stock, and will make due announcement in The Herald next week.

To Dr. F. A. Elders, it is with regret to lose him as a business man, but we are informed he will continue as a citizen of Hayti after a few weeks vacation with homefouks and a general rest-up.

C. OF C. AND CIVIC LEAGUE MEET

A joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Civic League was held in the High School Building Monday night.

One of the subjects before the meeting was the Clean-Up Day, on Wednesday, 25th. This matter was fully discussed by both the ladies and the gentlemen, arriving at a definite understanding, which was carried out fully on the day set.

Another subject was the West road from Hayti to Kennett. Judge T. R. Cole of the County Court was in attendance and explained to the people the inability of the county court to furnish all the money to complete the road, but did pledge the sum of $1750 to assist in the work. State Highway Engineer Murray of Sikeston, stated that with this money from the county, the amount raised by the people along the road, and possibly a thousand dollars donated in Hayti, the road could be pushed to completion at once. This closed by the Chamber of Commerce voting the sum of $200 from its treasury to assist in the work, and efforts will be made at once to raise the balance needed to complete the road.

Yesterday in Belfast one person was killed and many others wounded in fresh outbreaks.

HAYS INAUGURATES NEW P. O. SCHEDULE

By International News Service.

Washington, May 26.—The people of the United States are to be taught to treat postoffice schedules with the same regard they do those of railroads, if Postmaster-General Hays has his way. He has just inaugurated a "mail early" campaign all over the country.

Through the medium of specially trained postoffice employees the "patrons" of his department are being visited and in brief demonstrations taught the value of getting their letters out with regard to collection schedules. Business men and chambers of commerce are being circularized, as they are among the principal beneficiaries of prompt mail delivery. As an indication of what it is hoped can be done, Mr. Hays cited Washington, the Government's home city. Following a brief campaign here the night burden of incoming mail lightened so much that twenty-two hard-worked night clerks were transferred to daylight posts.

Rev. G. W. Watkins, a colored evangelist of the A. M. E. church, has been conducting a revival meeting at the Gaither old store at Carlton for the past few weeks. We understand that he will administer the ordinance of baptism upon a large number of converts Sunday June 1. Also he will give a lecture illustrated with Bible scenery Saturday night, with no admission but a freewill offering will be taken.

—Wedding rings, either plain or carved, in yellow, white or green gold, at Turnbaugh's Jewelry Store.

Mrs. Anna Dunklin left Monday morning for Hyman, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Reed Woodside, for a few weeks. From there she goes to El Paso, Texas, to visit another daughter, Mrs. W. G. Graham, also two sons, Clarence and Beach Dunklin.

Conductor Ed Moore began this week the erection of a modern six-room residence on his lots, in the east side of town, recently purchased from Bill Finch.

CLEAN-UP DAY A REAL FACT

The Woman's Civic League of Hayti has done one thing commendable, that of agitating a general clean-up of Hayti. Their agitation was followed with one by the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Aldermen joining in the work, which has really become a fact.

Promptly yesterday morning at nine o'clock practically every business concern in Hayti closed its doors, remaining closed until 4 p. m. The forces and public spirited citizens of Hayti turned out to clean the city of its rubbish, cans, etc., and today, probably 50 truck loads of trash from the premises and streets are no dumped into an abandoned ditch southeast of town.

Every day in the city was used, others who owned teams volunteered their services.

A number of ladies and men met at Woodlawn Cemetery to cut and burn weeds. Some of the ladies served lunches and cold drinks free, while others worked most of the day in the cemetery.

Now that the Civil League and Chamber of Commerce, also the City Council are working in harmony, let's not let up. We suggest that since Monday is Decoration Day, why not make it another booster day for Hayti.

In conversation with Dr. L. H. Brannon, who is a member of the Board of Health, he suggests that all who can go to the City Cemetery Monday with rakes and hoes and give it the final touches.

DR. MURRAY TAYLOR DELIVERS ADDRESS

The Eighth Annual Commencement of Hayti High School was held at the Auditorium last Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

President of the Board of Education, John T. Buckley, first appeared on the stage, followed closely by this year's graduates, Miss Edith Davis and Warren Ray. They were followed by Superintendent O. E. Hooker, Dr. J. Murray Taylor and Rev. J. D. Nichol, and in turn by the High School Girls' Chorus.

The first number of the program: "The Dance of the Pine Tree Fairies"—R. R. Fromen, was beautifully rendered by the chorus. Prayer by Rev. L. D. Nichol.

The next selection, "Barcarolle—Tales from Hoffman," Offenbach-Warhurst, as given by the chorus, added much to the effectiveness of the occasion.

Superintendent Hooker, in a very few remarks, but with a degree of confidence introduced Dr. J. Murray Taylor of Memphis, who began his address to the graduates and to his attentive audience with the subject: "If you would succeed." Dr. Taylor is truly an orator, driving home arguments that convince. The subject we believe, was one very appropriate, and we might say, the Doctor well showed his ability in his evening's address. It is a real pleasure and we might add, an honor, to hear him, and no doubt all who heard him were benefitted.

After his address, another rendition by the chorus, a splendid selection by Misses Viola Matheny, Carmel Popham and Martha Welker.

President Buckley, in a few chosen words presented diplomas to the graduates.
